THE PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Sockless Jerry Simpson Outlines the New Party's Policy.

THEY MAY CARRY EIGHT STATES

This Year, he Says, and Expect to Hold the Balance of Power in the Next House--- What the New Political Force Expects to Accomplish in the Approaching Campaign.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16,-The New York Herald's correspondent sends the following to his paper:

"Whom shall you nominate for the presidency?" I asked Jerry Simpson, of Kansas, to-day.

The Alliance leader smiled. "That is rather a difficult question. General Weaver, of Iowa, may have the nomination if he wants it. He possesses many elements of popular strength. He was, as you remember, a good rough and tumble parliamentary fighter when he was a member of the house. He is also an effective stumper and in other respects a robust exponent of the principles the Farmers' Alliance advocates. He was, as you also may remember, the presidential candidate on the green-back ticket in 1980, when Garfield was elected.

"I don't think," Mr. Simpson con-tinued, "that General Weaver cares for the nomination or that he will accept it. If he declines I should be glad to see Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota, nominated. Donnelly has a strong and engaging personality. Ho is a man of great intellectual force, and our people have confidence in him. I have no lessifiate in saying that he is my perhesitancy in saying that he is my personal choice."

"When will the Farmers' Alliance convention meet?"

"In Omaha, on July 4. By that time both Republican and Democratic parties will have had their conventions and promulgated their declaration of principles. This will make it the more easy for us to act." "Do you expect to carry any states this autumn?"

EXPECT TO CARRY EIGHT STATES.

"We do indeed," said Mr. Simpson carnestly. "We expect to secure the electoral vote of four northern and four clectoral vote of four northern and four southern states. There is a probability of our carrying five northern states. Do I mind telling you what they are? Not at all. They are Kansas, Nobraska, Minnesota, North and South Dakota. The southern states are Georgia. Alabama, Arkansas, and North Carolina. We leel certain of carrying all of these with the exception of North Dakota."

"That will not enable you to elect your President," I said. "On the contrary you simply make certain the election of a Democratic President by throwing the election into the house."

"That is all right," said Mr. Simpson calmly. "It is not the presidency we are after. Our underlying purpose is to calluly. "It is not the presidency we are after. Our underlying purpose is to either obtain control of the house and the sonate or else to hold the balance of power in both bodies. We would, of course, elect our President if we could. At present we don't anticipate that. But a presidential ticket carries with it a contain presiden. A full ticket with a certain prestige. A full ticket, with presidential electors and everybody electors and everybody electors in the down to the humblest candidate, will give us a great many votes we could not otherwise get. That is our principal purpose in putting a presidential ticket in the field—that and a desire to continue our national organization." "What we want," Mr. Simpson went on, "is the control of the legislative branch of the government. We never can accomplish our purposes in any other way. With a bright, clever man like Ignatius Donnelly leading our ticket, ours would be a campaign of education, and we must educate the peoa certain prestige. A full ticket, with ucation, and we must educate the people so that they will see that we are right and that both of the old parties are wrong."

NO COMBINATIONS.

"Is it your purpose," I said, "to make combinations with the two old parties in certain of the Northern and Southern states? In other words, it has been suggested that in states where the Republicans are in the majority you should combine with the Democrats, and in the states where the Democrats are in the majority you should combine with the Republicans."

"No," said Mr. Simpson, reflectively, "Toon't think there is anything in that. We prefer to make our fight independently of the two old parties."

"Shall you extend your campaign east of the Alleghany mountains—into the Middle and New England states?"

"No," laughingly replied Mr. Simpson, "it would be useless. Those states are beyond redemption. The West and South is our country. In addition to the States I have said we would carry, we also expect to elect representatives in Congress and state assemblymen in such other granger communities as Illinois and Iowa and Missouri." in certain of the Northern and Southern such other granger communities as Illi-nois and Iowa and Missouri."

nois and Iowa and Missouri."
"Don't you believe when the real test comes," I said, "that the white Alliance men in the south will vote the Democratic ticket? Won't they be afraid if your people get into power that you may combine with the blacks and thus give the latter a political prominence they don't now enjoy? Didn't Livingston, of Georgia, who is one of your Alliance apostles, recently enunciate the principle that he was a Democrat first and an Alliance man afterward, and don't you think he voices the sentiment of the white southern Democrats generally?"

ern Democrats generally?"
"No, I don't," was the dogged reply.
"I know that Livingston said that, and he has lost caste by it. It has hurt him with our people everywhere. It has hurt him in his own home. We have in the south a membership of one million the south a memoership of one million colored people. They have their own lodges and work independently, al-though on the same lines that we do. We believe that we can divide the colored vote there.

"As I say, we have a milliom colored people in our organization now. As this number increases both the old parties will make a frantic endeavor to get the rest of them. The Republicans will hold what they have and the Demwill hold what they have and the Democrats will reach out for all they can get. We will thus divide the colored vote. And this being done, the negro question as a 'question' will disappear. The negro will then be a factor and not an issue in future campaigns, and we will then hear the last of the necessity of a distinctively white man's party in the south. We will at least have accomplished this much good, and I hope the monopolistic press of the east will appreciate it."
